

Hello, I'm Séphora

I am really happy to introduce myself as the new volunteer among you in Vukovar.

Learning, helping,
and sharing a meaningful aventure

Let's get to know each other!

About me

I am a pharmacy assistant with experience in teamwork and human contact

I am a 23-year-old French girl

"I love discover new thinks"

My hobbies:

drawing, reading, listening to music, learning new languages and traveling...

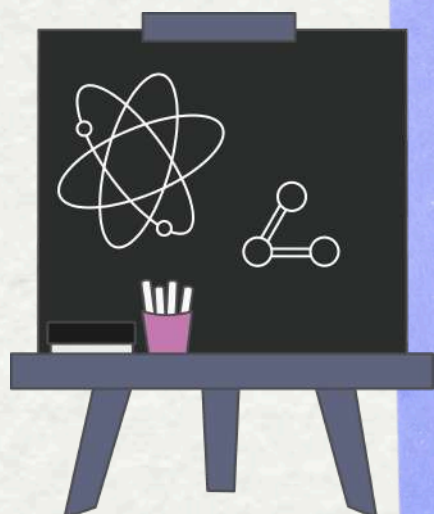

My values and my personality

. I am empathetic and caring.

. I am excited to learn from others and discover what they can teach me. I also love talking and learning from people

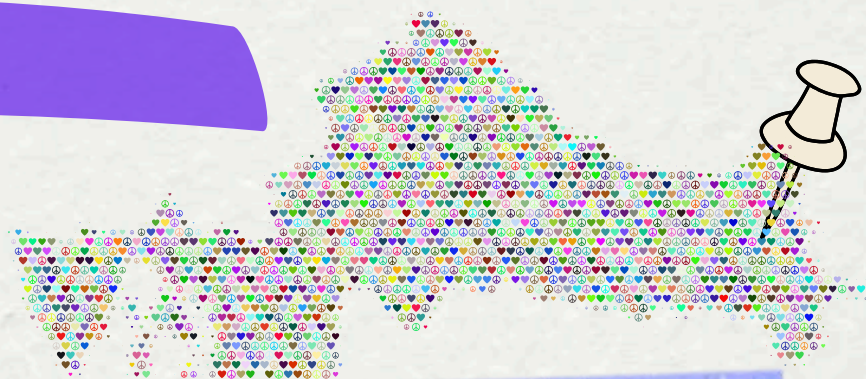

. I enjoy making others happy.
. I love joking around and laughing.

. I love learning new things and sharing what I learn with others.

Why this mission?

It aligns perfectly with my values.

An opportunity to travel and explore new places.

A great chance to learn and grow.

Coming from a small town (similar in size to Vukovar), I feel more comfortable connecting with people and building relationships.

I have always wanted to visit Croatia.

A unique opportunity made possible thanks to Europe.

What I hope to gain?

- Personal growth: learning more about myself and developing new skills

- Cultural Experience: Discovering Croatia and other cultures (Serbia, Hungary)

- Connections: Meeting new people, exchanging ideas, and building meaningful relationships

- Inspiration: learning from others and sharing what i know

- An international experience for my CV and future projects.
