PRONI CENTAR ZA SOCIJALNO PODUČAVANJE

PRONI Centre for social education is a Croatian non-governmental organisation founded in 1998. We work with young people and those who support them (NGOs, schools, institutions..), creating opportunities for learning, personal development and active participation in society.

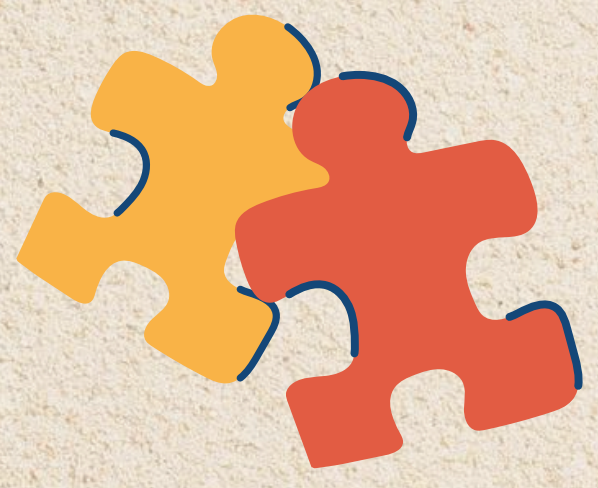

Our work focuses on youth information, volunteering and youth and community work through non-formal education. We believe that every young person deserves opportunities to learn, grow and contribute to their community.
We value diversity, promote inclusion and encourage young people to become active members of society.

PRONI Centre operates in 3 communities: Osijek, Vukovar and Pirovac.

WHAT IS THE PROJECT ABOUT?

My Creative and Caring Community

The project aims to promote inclusive volunteering and create more opportunities for people who face barriers to participate in community life.

Inclusion is at the part of everything we do. We believe that everyone should have the opportunity to participate, feel welcome and be valued, regardless of their background, personal circumstances or abilities.

In cooperation with local organisations and partners working with young people with fewer opportunities and people facing health-related challenges, PRONI Centre will encourage active participation of youth/volunteers in the local community, promote solidarity and help build connections between people from different backgrounds.

Through volunteering, we want to create a community where diversity is welcomed, people support one another and everyone has the opportunity to contribute in their own way.
